To whom it may concern

For over 10 years, I have had the pleasure of working with Dr. Gerald Wissel. During this time, we collaborated by working for a number of international airlines and private jet operators in all kind of businesses.

After joining WIKING Helikopter Service as Managing Director and Accountable Manager I engaged Gerald and his company, AIRBORNE Consulting for further improvements in management and operations.

I have personally witnessed the results of projects Gerald has undertaken for clients by developing and implementing innovative business and performance concepts.

Gerald's unique knowledge, creativity and experience in adopting future technologies, integrating new modes of transport with existing air and non-air connectivity in particular, will benefit many others.

Gerald is an outstanding consultant with profound knowledge in aviation. He always works very structured and goal – oriented. The cooperation with him has always been constructive, cooperative and successful. Gerald is able to quickly understand complex interrelationships of all kind of companies and organizations and to transfer them into concrete and feasible solutions.

When it comes to organizations that have become leading aviation experts and motivators for positive change management in recent years, Gerald's company, AIRBORNE Consulting, is at the forefront.

He finished the project on time, within budget and exceeded our expectation on the results and is an experienced project manager. Gerald is highly trust-worthy and honest, I can therefore recommend him for any of those projects. His dedication, felxibility and thinking-out-of-the-box mentality are the main pillars for success of all projects.

With best regards,
